

GENERAL HISTORY

We took a break in April and then wound up our theme of non-governmental organisations with a talk about the Jehovah's Witnesses. This developed into a wide ranging discussion about various religious organisations and we even tried to address the question of "Where do morals come from"?

We are moving on to a new theme of Local History in June. We will focus on areas not too far away from Grange covering Cumbria, Lancaster and adjacent parts of Yorkshire. Members have been invited to come up with their own ideas for topics which can be at any time in the past. It could be political, social, economic, cultural, about a particular person or family or any other topic which fits the theme. Topics fixed so far include Holker, Preston Patrick and Backbarrow Iron Works.
